IS HEREWITH CALLED AT ONCE!

TO ASSEMBLE AT THE STORE OF

D. KLASS!

Opposite the Myers House, STANFORD, KY. The object of this called meeting is to argue, take into consideration and pass your vote in favor of D. KLASS' following Notions for this general meeting:—

1st. WHEREAS, I have bought a large stock of Spring Goods, but have not sold them out as quickly as I am generally doing, because the Spring forgot to make its appearance this year, and
2d. WHEREAS, It is my custom never to carry stock over from season to season, and that in order to sell this large stock of Clothing, Dry Goods, Boots, Shoes, &c., &c., in a short time I must make some sacrifice in prices, therefore be it
Resolved, And I have resolved that from this day on, or until further notice is given, every article in my store will be offered at an immense reduction and many goods BELOW COST. But I will do still better and make this liberal offer, to wit: It is further resolved that

Every Customer Purchasing to the Amount of $10 will Receive a Very Fine, Large Oil Painting, Elegantly Framed, good enough for the Finest Parlor, and free of charge.

(These are no common chromos, but first-class Paintings.) Still better yet: And in order to give those a chance who may not need or not be able to buy $10 worth of goods at once, I will give the same chances, and allow every small purchase to be counted till the whole amount reaches the sum of $10. I want it distinctly understood that each painting given away is worth nearly the amount of your purchase.

The Prices on all My Goods are away Below all Competition, and especially so this season.

I MAKE THIS LIBERAL OFFER FOR TWO REASONS:

First, to Reduce my Immense Stock, and secondly to show my Appreciation in some way to the people for their kind patronage.

Don't buy 5 cents worth of Goods till you have Examined my Stock and Hear Prices.

Every One Should Attend the Great Mass Meeting at

THE LATEST NEWS!

BILL ZADICK TO TOMMY FIDDLESTICK, (both gentlemen of color.)

Tommy—"I say, Bill, where is you goin'?"

Bill—"I is going' right dar to Mr. D. Klass' store."

Tommy—"Bill, wa—what's de matter dar, I sees so many folks in d store?"

Bill—"Why, they say it is mass meetin' to-day."

Tommy—"A what, did you say?"

Bill—"Can't you understand plain English?—a meeting of mass—"

Tommy—"Well, I see. What is it all about, Bill?"

Bill—"Well, they say Mr. Klass is a selling his goods so cheap now that, between you and me and that lamp post yonder, it is not worth while to hook it, Tommy, and besides that he is now givin' every one that buys of him $10 worth of goods, no matter if at one time or in a dozen times, so you buy the amount of $10, he is givin' you and every one a fine, large oil painting, elegantly framed, for nothin'—mind you for nothin'.

Tommy—"For the Lord's sake, Bill, I must run home and tell that to Betsy. She is now saving up to buy a picture for our parlor, but now she gits it—an oil painting for nothin'.

Bill—"Yes, dat's so. You see dar is Jimmy Brown coming' out now with a new suit of clothes on and a large painting under his arm. Well, Tommy,

I is goin' dar—I must be one of the mass meeting', too.

Tommy—"All right, Bill, but I say dar is no use a talking, dat Klass takes the cake sure enough."

Bill—"You are right, the whole bakery you might say; and I tell you he is doing the business of the town, because he sells very cheap and is a liberal fellow.

Tommy—"Well, Bill, I'll see you later; good bye, I is goin' home and tell Betsy all about that mass meeting at D. KLASS' store, opposite the Myers House.

W. P. WALTON.

NEARLY all the leading republicans are in Chicago this week to take a hand in running a man for the democrats to beat in November. The race seems to be narrowed down to Blaine and Arthur, with the chances somewhat in favor of the latter, who has worked the patronage of his office for all that it was worth. The fellows to whom he has given pay are lousy in their advocacy of his claims, knowing that upon his success alone depends their salvation from going to work and making an honest living. He wins first blood in the decision of the national committee in favor of the Mahone delegation from Virginia, all of whom are for him, though its decision is not final. A committee on credentials favorable to Blaine might reverse the matter and recognize only the straight-out republican delegation. A strong partisan feeling is waging in Chicago and well informed parties assert that it is so bitter that unless one of them is nominated on the first or second ballot, neither will receive the nomination, but that a dark horse now browsing peacefully in the woods will step up to the string and have the blue ribbon tied to him. The convention meets at noon to day, but a nomination even under the most favorable circumstances is not expected before to-morrow as the whole day will be consumed in the preliminary work of the body. LATER.—Yesterday's papers report that owing to treachery in the Arthur camp, Mr. Blaine has the badge and that unless the tide was turned during the day Arthur's name would not be presented to the convention. Let us pray that the tide keep in the direction it is running. The Kentucky delegation, which was thought to be solid for Arthur, turns out to be 8 against him.

THE greenbackers nominated Ben Butler for President and he is now the candidate of two so-called parties, the other being the anti-monopoly. Gen. A. W. West, of Mississippi, was made the candidate for Vice President and a string of resolutions as long as the moral law was adopted. Among other things they demand the substitution of greenbacks for National bank notes; denounce the land grants to railroads and demand that the necessary steps be taken to restore said lands to the people to whom they belong; demand that Congress shall correct the pooling, stock watering and discrimination in railroad rates by the construction of National railroads and demand a government postal telegraph system, a graduated income tax, an amelioration of the condition of labor, the abolition of the convict system, the reduction of the hours of labor, and laws for the prevention of imported pauper laborers. They want the Senatorial term of office reduced, the abolition of the Committee system in Congress, the tariff revised so that the revenues shall be raised on the luxuries instead of the necessities of life, a vote taken on an amendment to the constitution in favor of allowing women to vote and also on the subject of the liquor traffic. Of course all this is love's labor lost. The greenbackers ought to be waked up and informed that they have been dead a number of years.

MR. PHIL THOMPSON'S excellent bill to reduce the internal revenue and customs districts has been adopted by the Committee of the Whole and will pass the House easily. By the bill the Custom House districts will be reduced from 141 to 69 and 1,200 useless office-holders ordered down and out. Of the districts as at present constituted, 54 cost more than they collect and at 22 of them never a dollar has been collected in ten years. If the bill becomes a law, which we doubt, since a republican Senate has to pass upon it, a million and a half will be saved in the customs collected per annum. At present there are 84 collectors of internal revenue, Mr. Thompson's bill reduces them to 43, allows a store keeper of a distillery that does not mash ten bushels per day and reduces to $2 per day the pay of store keepers at distilleries mashing 25 bushels or less. Over 1,000 pack suckers and political bummers will go out and a million dollars be saved yearly. The country demands that the bill shall become a law.

FOUR years ago Garfield's vote was 4,449,053 to Hancock's 4,442,035. A majority of but 7,018. The natural increase of democrats since then has been sufficient to change the result many times over, besides not a few republicans have seen the error of their way and fled from the wrath to come into the fold of the democracy. With Tilden or any other man nearly so good we can and will elect our man in November, no matter whom the republicans nominate this week in Chicago.

ON and after the 10th instant, those who have been accustomed to while away their time looking at the suggestive pictures and reading the immoral stuff dished up by such publications as the Police Gazette, Police News, &c., will have to go outside of Kentucky to continue that kind of mental pabulum, as on that day it will be unlawful for those papers to circulate in this Commonwealth.

THE Cincinnati Commercial Gazette's head is level as to Virginia when it says: "As there is no reasonable hope that Virginia can be carried for the republican nominee for the Presidency, no matter who is nominated, the Chicago convention should not allow itself to go in pieces over the question of admitting the Mahone or Dezen-dorf delegation. One's, perhaps, as good as the other."

COL. A. G. TALBOTT has retired from the Congressional race, owing to reasons given in our Danville letter.

THE Covington Commonwealth is surprised that the "INTERIOR JOURNAL," the editorial management of which is in the main marked by sterling good sense, should oppose Federal aid to schools and say that the centralizing influence of a law for that purpose is mere gabble and that if it is a scheme to dispose of the surplus in the treasury it is the best way of doing so. The Commonwealth is evidently for the leaves and fishes, regardless of the constitutional validity of the law and would for the sake of a doubtful blessing, assist the republicans in their efforts to devise plans for a continuation of an onerous war tariff in times of peace. When such men as Senator Beck, of this State, Senator Coke, of Texas, and Senator Bayard, of Delaware, as able and as learned lawyers as there are in the United States, give it as their unbiased opinion that such a law would be in violation of the constitution and make strong appeals against its passage for that and other reasons, we are fully convinced that it ought not to pass. Should it do so, however, there would be a myriad of new offices created and an additional lease given the party in power to continue so. We commend the perusal of Senator Coke's able argument in opposition to the law to our esteemed contemporary.

THE editor of the Nicholasville Journal-Courier says hereafter he will not apologize for anything, and he says it in italics too. It's a bad resolve young man. You will find that a good apology is much better than a bad threatening.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Mr. Hiseock's motion to take up the bill to repeal the tax on tobacco was lost by a motion to adjourn, 97 to 90.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Through the hiatus occasioned by the long sickness of your correspondent, Hustonville has almost dropped out of current history. While Rip Van Winkle slept the world wagged on. So this historic West End, although there was none to chronicle its acts and doings, has continued to act and do, and as the long dormant historian gradually shakes off his slumber, he is astonished to note the changes a few weeks space has produced. But there are past. The teeming present and the prophetic future are now the fruitful themes of speculation. The reverses of capitalists, the criminality of trusted financial agents, the crashing fall of great moneyed institutions, the loss of confidence in the custodians of public funds and the gloomy forebodings of utter and ruinous panic in all the marts of trade afford food for anxious solicitude among all classes of society. Again the country is just entering into the throes of the great quadrennial spasm—the Presidential election—and the public mind is almost crazed over the question what political faction shall hold in its hand the destiny—the very existence of our institutions during the next four years? Removed, as our people are, from the great centres of political machinery, free to a great extent from the ambitions of political partisans and the aspirations of political schemers, our quiet community will probably pursue the even tenor of their way untroubled by the tempest that will soon sweep over the land with desolating fury, voting intelligently when the time for voting comes, accepting gracefully the decision of the ballot box, and resolved whatever be the result to make the most of the situation and manfully discharge the higher duties to home and family and race which God and nature have laid upon them. We have learned by long experience that there is a vitality in the nation that will survive even a convulsion so terrible as a temporary change of rulers, and history has shown that the central idea in all these conflicts is not whether or how the best interests of the whole people shall be promoted, but whether and how the incumbents of well paid offices shall hold their positions, or others be permitted to take their turn in plundering the public exchequer. Hence, as a people, we will probably weather the storm without undue excitement or harassing perturbation.

—The stockholders of the Stock Fair Association, on Saturday elected G. M. Givens President of the association. George will make an excellent officer.

—Farmers are getting a little uneasy as to the cold dry season; but Tom P. Nall who is regarded as second only to the ground-hog, predicts that the crops this season will equal any during the past decade, except perhaps, that of year before last.

—Among the matters of local and minor importance we may note that on Saturday night the smoke-house of Mr. Pendleton Jenkins was plundered to the amount of ten hams and the same number of sides of superior bacon. He has no clew as to the marauders.

—Miss Hettie Goode showed me at Mrs. Williams' Millinery store, a magnificent specimen of the crazy quilt genus of her own get up. It is really rich and beautiful and shows what wonders the needle, when guided by taste and skill, can perform. The article will probably be sent to Lexington.

—In the general improvements the churches are taking a position. The Baptist and Christian denominations have both secured ministers settled in this place. The Christian and Presbyterian houses are both undergoing extensive repairs and the prospect is that we will soon begin our prestige as a village of churches.

—COMPELLED TO REVOKE.—A game of cards was played in a lot in town Saturday night between Pete Huston and Joe Lee, both colored, in which the latter was winner. Pete insisted on a return of the stakes, and as Joe obstinately refused to see it a fight resulted in which Joe was badly beaten and gave up the money. Pete was under arrest on Sunday evening.

—D. C. Terhune, of Harrodsburg, bought of Geo. Kinder 2 mule colts for $170—from J. H. Pruitt one mule colt for $85.50—from Joe Napier one mule colt for $90—from C. B. Reid for $77.50 and 8 from J. W. Powell at $80.50. John Baughman bought of John Rount one mule colt for $90. W. F. Carpenter bought of Sylvia Givens one mule colt for $75.

The first of the B. & O. Red Books for the year is out, and if it is to be taken as a fair indication of what other editions are to be a million won't supply the demand. In the Red Book of the Republican National Convention—that being its title—about everything is given which can be considered of interest in connection with convention matters, and the clear and exceedingly concise form must commend it most heartily. The compilation is out of the usual order in political text books. There are very few figures, and the side notes in bold type lead to ready reference to an extensive combination of valuable data. It cannot but be a very desirable little book as the campaign progresses, and a two cent stamp inclosed to C. K. Lord, Baltimore, will secure a copy.

A correspondent asks us what we should do if the republicans should nominate Blaine and the democrats Butler. "My brethren," said a colored preacher, "dar ar' two roads in dis worl; one leads to perdition an' de order to damnation." "In dat case," said one of his hearers, "dis niggar will take to de woods."—(Boston Herald.)

TO-NIGHT at the Opera House the annual concert and to-morrow night the regular commencement exercises and another session of the Stanford Female College will be numbered with the past.

AFTER our forms were printed, washed and partly distributed last Friday, it was found that our edition was short about 100, so we had to substitute other matter and put the paper to press again. This will account for the unusual make up of some of the papers sent out.

SHAFER, the photographer, has concluded to remain with us for a time yet.

LOTS of frames at Shaffer's gallery. Bring the family along and don't forget the baby.

SHAFER will make a specialty of copying work and family groups while he remains here.

BRING your old pictures and have them enlarged while you can do so at home. Shaffer warrants all his work.

SPARKS, the man charged with killing deputy marshal Killion, and Graves, an accessory, were arrested and at their trial, Saturday, in London, were held in $500 each to answer before the Circuit Court.

If some of the statements are true, Killion is not as much deserving of sympathy as was at first alleged.

A THEOLOGICAL student at Georgetown, who is particularly fond of writing to young ladies, has just been roped in by a young man here, who has been corresponding with him over the signature of "Lizzie D." and he now feels, no doubt, that he ought to have been reading his bible instead of yielding to the vanities of the flesh.

THE last Legislature passed laws making it illegal to sell spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within two miles of McKinney; within the same distance of school district No. 15; within 1 1/2 miles of Moreland, in this county. In the list published in the Louisville Times there is no reference to the bill said to have been passed in regard to Crab Orchard.

THE City Council met and unanimously agreed to buy a number of gasoline lamps, but when the Treasurer was called on to state the amount of funds on hand, it was found that they were less than enough to pay current demands. With a law forbidding taxation to exceed 25 cents on the hundred dollars worth of property, the Treasury will always be empty.

AN old inhabitant writes the Courier Journal that 50 years ago to the very day that it came this year, a frost killed all the apples and peaches between Maysville and Lexington, Ky., and that he has seen both frost and ice on June 6th, in this State. So it will be seen that it is not worth while saying there never was such weather before. There has always been worse if the story of the antiquated inhabitant is worthy of credence.

MARRIAGE.—In the presence of a gaping crowd Judge Brown united the destinies of Mr. Joseph Hawkins and Miss Docia Martin at the court-house, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Hawkins, also known as Farmer, is a widower with seven children and his young bride, who is only 17 years of age, is a sister to his first wife. In this connection Jos. Cain wishes us to say that the report that he ran off with Miss Docia is false; that when she did leave however he did all in his power to make her return. He says he would not leave his wife for any one on earth.

ADMISSION to the Concert to be given by the young ladies of the Female College to-night has been reduced to 25 cents. The programme consists of a number of fine vocal and instrumental selections and a Festival of the Seasons, in which the young ladies will appear in appropriate costumes. The Commencement exercises Wednesday night include a salutatory address by Miss Annie Alcorn; essays by Misses Belle Tyree, Jennie Crane, Lillie Shelton and Mary Gully and the valedictory by Miss Ellen Ballou, the only full graduate.

JEFF HALE was tried before Judge Brown, Saturday, for the cowardly offense of shooting a horse belonging to Peter Gill. It seems that both men claimed a pasture and that Hale had attempted to drive Gill's stock out, but he prevented whereupon Hale fired on the horse, killing him with shot, though not seriously damaging him. Under the law the charge of injuring and maiming a horse is punishable with a fine of not less than $10 or more than $1,000, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than one nor more than 12 months or both, and Hale was held to answer under bond of $100. He put up the amount in cash with the trustee of the jury fund and was released.

FOR the first time in years we are enabled to chronicle that a Commencement Sunday passed without the usual wetting of the pretty garments that are always brought out on that day. Bright, clear and pleasant it was a lovely Sunday for the occasion and people for miles around embraced the opportunity to attend and hear the Rev. P. T. Hale, of Danville, preach a capital sermon to the young ladies of Stanford Female College. The Opera House was filled from stage to gallery and a handsome, better dressed crowd is seldom seen. The teachers and scholars reached their places on the stage about 11 and shortly afterwards a hymn sung by the school opened the services. Rev. Mr. Pollitt, of Maysville, led in prayer and then after another hymn Mr. Hale announced that he had selected Mark 14:8 as the basis of his remarks: "She hath done what she could." He eloquently spoke of the great good that could be accomplished in the world by true women and of the influence of evil a heartless woman of fashion and frivolity exerted. Woman's sphere was not at the ballot-box, the lawyer's desk nor the preacher's stand, but her's was a nobler and higher mission. She could by a holy, christian life do more for the improvement and advancement of the world than by any of these. It was in the power of every woman to do something to that end and he hoped that each of those he addressed might be finally said, "She hath done what she could." The address lasted nearly an hour and was listened to with closest attention by the 800 people who sat or stood within the sound of his voice.

OUR Lancaster reporter sent us a letter for this issue by hand, but the thoughtless fellow took it back to him instead of leaving it here.

THE Lincoln Mills property, which cost over $25,000 and which was appraised at $15,000, sold yesterday to the First National Bank, the principal creditor for $10,000.

THE May Festival given by Misses Mary Kay and Lydia Lewis in the woodland of Mr. Geo. P. Bright at the close of their school last Friday, is spoken of in high terms by those who attended. We regret that we were unable to accept the kind invitation to be present.

WE are glad to know that the assignment of J. O. Dunn & Co., at Richmond, was not on account of embarrassment of the firm, but simply to close out a business in which the partners could not agree. Mr. Dunn still continues his large individual sewing machine trade.

SQUIRE DANIELS tells us the Southern Mutual Insurance Co., has paid Mrs. Graybeal in full the $1,000 policy held by her husband. The only trouble about the matter in the first place was the refusal of the attending physician to give a certificate of death until his fee was secured.

THE County Court yesterday voted $500 per mile to the Carpenter's Station and Moreland turnpike, length 3 1/2 miles. Messrs. J. O. McAlister and N. J. Cone made able speeches in favor of the subscription. The stockholders in the road are requested to meet at Moreland Station Friday, June 6th, at 2:30 P. M.

SALE OF BANK STOCK.—Hon. Harrison Bailey, as executor of Judge Bailey, sold yesterday to Dr. S. G. Hocker five shares of First National of Stanford at $128; A. D. Newland ten shares in same bank at $126.50; Wm. Givens five shares of Farmers National at $152; John M. Hall five shares at $151.50 and M. C. Miller five shares at $153.50 and five shares at $154.

TWO more murders are added to Laurel county's growing list. In a general row a Pittsburgh, Saturday, a man named James Riley shot and instantly killed John Lloyd. Riley and his partner, Jackson, then beat two other men severely with clubs and made good their escape. At the same place later in the day Neal Beatty, a negro boy, shot and probably fatally wounded George Delph, a coal bank boss, who struck him over the head.

IN the County Court yesterday Clerk Blaine reported the assessor's books examined, corrected and approved and an order was given on the auditor for the payment of the work. A further subscription of $2,000 to aid in building a bridge over Dix River, on the Stanford and Prescherville turnpike half to be paid out of this year's levy and half out of 1885. For the Carpenter's Station and Moreland turnpike $500 per mile was voted. Sheriff Menefee gave his check for $548.99 the amount found to be due the county by Attorney Carpenter. Mr. Menefee renewed his bond as sheriff with S. F. Cowan and Craig Lynn as securities. Seven county bonds of $500 each having been paid they were destroyed in the presence of the court. Counting out its resources the county's debt is now only $7,000. The poll tax was fixed at $1 per poll and the property tax at 20 cents on the $100. Messrs. E. W. Brown, R. H. Bronaugh, D. R. Carpenter and G. P. Bright were appointed a committee to have the house, recently burned at the poor-house, rebuilt. Resolutions on the death of Squire Peyton were ordered to be spread upon the records and published in the INTERIOR JOURNAL and the court adjourned.

JUDGE M. J. DURHAM spoke here yesterday to a very large and attentive audience. He began by replying to Gov. McCreary's argument that Madison hadn't had a Congressman for 35 years. That there were other counties that had never had a Congressman and he believed that Lincoln county was entitled to it this time and he had told the only aspirant from Lincoln that if he would make the race he (Judge D.) would run. Gov. M. had accused him of always running for office, but the Governor had made two races to his one. It had been argued that because the Governor had money he was the person to nominate. He didn't have much money, but he had never been defeated yet. He believed in the strict construction of the constitution, the only preservation of State rights. There are no implied powers granted by constitution, never during his term of office, had he voted to give railroads the public lands, except the right of way, and never voted for a subsidy. Congress has no right to lend the public money. He voted against lending money to the Philadelphia Centennial, for which he was criticised, but if he had been in Congress would have voted against lending money to the New Orleans Exposition. Unalterably opposed to Federal aid to public schools; it is but a dodge of the protectionists to keep up the high tariff tax; wanted tax kept on whisky and manufactured tobacco till public debt is paid and then if practicable raise the banner of free trade; was against a bankrupt law of any kind; the insolvent laws of the different States are sufficient; favored the bill introduced by McPherson to allow the banks to issue dollar for dollar instead of 90c to the dollar and in favor of unlimited coinage of silver and the use of silver certificates to take the place of the $200,000,000 of bonds that mature in five years; favored a tariff for revenue only; the Morrison bill was a step in the right direction; the Chicago convention should put such a plank in its platform. He discussed the tariff at some length and very ably; believed the "Old Ticket" would sweep the country like wild fire and thought it would be nominated. The speech was well received and several of the audience complimented the Judge on its being the best of his life.

REMEMBER that by buying your coal now you can save 50 per cent. Bright & Curran agents.

AN election of one Trustee in each district will occur next Saturday. While voters vote only for white Trustees and colored only for one of their race.

THE frost of Friday morning does not seem to have injured anything worth speaking of. A very few of the tenderer vegetables were slightly nipped but no damage whatever was done the wheat.

TILDEN is emphatically the choice of the people of this county. There are a few for McDonald and one for Randall but the large majority are for the Sage of Grammercy Park, first last and all the time.

MR. W. H. MILLER did not press the $200 appropriation for the Exposition display, yesterday, as the justices thought they had no authority to do so. Besides there was considerable opposition on the outside.

JUDGE BEN BURDETT telephoned "that Sunday work on the lastruments is not so much the cause of their failure to operate as the absence of Monday's attention in this office." You are another, you old counter, you.

THE sisters of the Christian Church will give an ice cream supper in the Hall of Dr. Oweley's building next Wednesday night. They will also have the more substantial necessities of life, all of which have been put down to a low figure. Everybody who attends the commencement that night should call around and patronize the ladies. Doors open at 6 P. M.

THE uncomfortable experience of the past few days should be sufficient to convince our citizens, the merchants especially, of having the business portion of Main street sprinkled. The dust has been worse than we ever saw it and the damage done there in every house in town is ten times greater than the sum it would take to keep the street in comfortable condition and for a small monthly subscription by the merchants, hotels and others, this could be done.

DEATHS.

—Richard, twin son of David and Mrs. Sallie Scott, died Sunday, aged 10 months. It had always been weakly.

—Mr. J. H. Vagen, Jr., died on the 25th ult. at his residence in Indianapolis. He had quite a number of relatives in this county and Boyle and was widely known for his many good traits of character.

—Mrs. Lizzie Pherigo, wife of George R. Pherigo, died at the home of Mr. O. J. Newland, Saturday, after a short illness of consumption, aged about 26 years. She was a member of the Baptist Church and an excellent, worthy christian woman. Industrious, capable and self-respecting, she did her part well and her three little children, all girls, will sadly miss her ministering care and love. May the God of the fatherless watch over and protect them. The funeral services were held at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. M. Bruce, after which the remains were interred in Buffalo Cemetery.

RELIGIOUS.

—Rev. J. M. Bruce will preach at Mr. Xenia school-house next Sunday at 3:30 P. M.

—Dr. Benjamin Bosworth Smith, presiding bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, is dead, aged 80 years. He was at one time Superintendent of Instruction in this State.

—During the present century 150,000,000 copies of the Bible have been printed in 226 different languages. We have now 5,756 mission stations in heathen lands, with 6,696 ordained missionaries. This is a tenfold increase in eighty years.

—Thirty-two years ago the State Baptist Association held its last meeting among the people of Glasgow. Almost an average lifetime passed away before it met with us again. Only a few of the ministers who attended that association were with us last week. Elders W. W. Gardner and S. L. Helm are the only ones who now suggest themselves. The rest have all, with a few exceptions, joined the great silent majority beyond the river. How many of us will be here when the State Baptist Association again meets in Glasgow? [Times.]

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—A. T. Nunneller bought of J. M. Had-den 300 sheep at $2 each.

—J. M. Hall sold to Tom Wood 39 wethers, sheared, at 3 cents, and a cow for $32.

—Hutchings & Evans sold to Wm. Moreland for J. D. Embury 36 head 1,256 pound orop cattle at $5.35.

—G. A. Swinebrod has just returned from Tennessee where he bought a car-load of feeding cattle at about 3 cents per pound.

—B. G. Pennington bought of Jno. Gentry, of Rockcastle, 62 year-old horse mules at $80, and sold 60 lambs to Sam Owens at 51 cents, 15th June delivery.

—A shortage of a single crop is excuse enough for the average farmer to refuse to pay anything when it comes due. Such an attitude toward creditors in any other line of business would be denounced in the most emphatic terms. Now that a large number of the farmers of the Northwest are in independent circumstances, would it not be well for them to apply the ordinary rules of business to their vocation? [Northwestern Lumberman.]

—Yesterday was about an average court day both in sales of stock and in other transactions. The auctioneers report from 200 to 300 common cattle on the market. Capt. H. T. Bush says that best sold at 4 to 5 cents and inferior at 3 to 4 cents. Trade was livelier and quicker than for several courts. No mules or horses. Capt. Jake Higgins sold a lot of milk cows at $28 to $55; 14 yearlings at $23 and one pair mules, only once offered, for $200.
